

Why build an inclusive culture?

Having an inclusive culture is one of the most effective ways to increase productivity and innovation in organisations.

When your team members see and hear the organisation valuing diversity and inclusion, they feel empowered and will contribute their ideas. They are the people closest to what is truly going on with your clients, and you need to listen carefully to them.

Building an inclusive culture is not just about your employees now. It's about laying the foundations for sustainable growth, as the new generation – gen Z – enter the workforce. Gen Z have great expectations that employers NEED to fulfil, if they want to attract and retain the best future talent. And that starts with a culture of community, above income.

I am convinced that nothing we do is more important than hiring and developing people. At the end of the day, you bet on people, not strategies.
